

The ESV Translation as the Standard at Christ Community Church

The English Standard Version (ESV) will be the standard translation for use at Christ Community Church. Thus at all our public gatherings the ESV will be the translation that will be read and taught from as a standard practice. We do not forbid other translations from use in similar contexts or even in corporate worship if it is noted as a special exception. Standardizing our translation will make it easier for the congregation to follow along in our reading and teaching of God's Word. Furthermore, this will aid new believers who may not be aware of the various reasons translations differ and therefore not causing any unnecessary confusion.
